

Alexis Mac Allister: I look at my World Cup medal every day – and want to build my own museum

Description

Liverpool midfielder, Alexis Mac Allister, dreams of creating a personal museum at home to keep his medals and trophies. One of his prized possessions is a winners' medal he received at the World Cup in 2022. Mac Allister looks at this medal every day to remind himself of his sporting achievements. The player is hoping to add more to his collection, beginning with Sunday's Carabao Cup fixture against Chelsea.

The belief that his trophy cabinet will need enlarging soon is a humble admission. As a World Cup winner and a team player with Lionel Messi, Mac Allister is confident that his achievements are just the start of a successful career. The player is looking forward to the Carabao Cup and sees it as an opportunity to score another trophy.

Mac Allister feels quite at home in Liverpool and expresses his immense love for the club since his first day, a feeling that the player claims he hasn't felt anywhere else. While he had an option to move to Stamford Bridge, he assures that Liverpool was the only real chance for him. When asked about former teammate Moises Caicedo choosing Chelsea over Liverpool, Mac Allister abstained from commenting, respecting Caicedo's personal decision. He wishes him the best, but of course, not for Sunday.

Vocabulary List:

1. Medals // (noun): Metal discs or similar objects awarded as a prize for winning a competition or an accomplishment.
2. Trophies // (noun): Objects, such as cups or statues, awarded for victory in a competition or recognition of an achievement.
3. Possessions // (noun): Things that are owned.
4. Prized // (adjective): Highly valued or cherished.
5. Achievements // (noun): Things done successfully, typically by effort, courage, or skill.
6. Colleciton // (noun): A group of objects gathered together as a hobby or for study.

CATEGORY

1. Uncategorized

Date Created

2024/02/24

Author

aimeeyoung99
