

Anime Open World NTE to Showcase 4K 60fps on PS5 Pro

Description

The new anime game called NTE: Neverness to Everness will come out on 29th April. It will be for the PS5 Pro console. The game will show very clear and stable pictures. This will happen because it will use special technology.

The PS5 Pro is powerful. It helps the game create more beautiful images and effects. For example, it will add fog for a more realistic look. It will also create better shadows and shading. Shadows make things look real in games.

The game team played a version of NTE on the regular PS5. They liked how smooth everything felt. They said it is much better than a previous game made by the same team.

The game will also work well with the DualSense controller. Players will feel effects like vibrations during fights. They will also feel resistance when driving a car in the game.

NTE announced a fun partnership with the game Persona 5 Royal. Many new features will be available when NTE launches.
