

Brad Paisley and the Howard Gospel Choir to provide entertainment for state dinner highlighting US-Kenya ties hosted by the Bidens

Description

American country star Brad Paisley and the Howard Gospel Choir will perform at a fancy state dinner hosted at the White House for Kenya President William Ruto and his wife Rachel Ruto. This event aims to showcase the strong bond between the United States and Kenya, highlighting their mutual love for country and gospel music. The First Lady, Dr. Jill Biden, personally selected Paisley and the choir for their musical talents. This visit marks the first time an American president has welcomed an African leader for a state visit since 2008. President Biden's efforts to strengthen relationships with key African leaders are seen as a strategic move to counter Russia and China's influence on the continent. Paisley's history of performing at White House events dates back to 2009, and he continues to be a well-received guest at such prestigious gatherings.
