

Breaking Through: Solana's Journey Past $153 Resistance

Description

- Solana has recently retested a critical pennant support, indicating potential bullish momentum.
- Key metrics and a rising Total Value Locked (TVL) suggest a strengthening ecosystem.

Solana [SOL] is displaying indications of a bullish breakout following a successful support test. The altcoin has been consolidating within a bullish pennant pattern for the past five months.

In the last 24 hours, SOL bounced off the lower boundary of the pennant pattern, signaling increased buying activity at this support level.

This pivotal support could serve as a launchpad for a potential bullish surge towards the next resistance level around $153.

The $153 resistance is significant for SOL bulls, as a clear breach above this level could reignite buying pressure and set the stage for a retest of previous highs.
