

Broadway Star Gavin Creel Dies at 48: Tragic Loss in American Horror Story Community

Description

Gavin Creel, a TV and Broadway star, tragically passed away at the age of 48 after battling a rare and aggressive form of cancer, as announced by his publicist, Matt Polk. Creel was widely recognized for his outstanding performances on stage, notably in the production of Hello Dolly! alongside Bette Midler, for which he received a Tony award in 2017. He portrayed the character of Cornelius Hackl in the show, displaying his exceptional talent and winning the hearts of audiences.

Additionally, Creel made a mark in the West End, earning an Olivier award for his role as Elder Price in The Book Of Mormon. His versatility and charm captivated fans and peers alike, with British star Hannah Waddingham expressing deep sorrow over his untimely death. Tributes poured in from the industry, including heartfelt messages from Lin-Manuel Miranda, Idina Menzel, and Josh Gad.

Creel's illustrious career spanned various Broadway productions, from Thoroughly Modern Millie to Hair and Waitress. His TV appearances, such as in American Horror Stories and alongside Julie Andrews in Eloise At The Plaza, showcased his diverse talent. Beyond his performances, Creel co-founded Broadway Impact, a movement supporting marriage equality.

Born in Findlay, Ohio, Creel's legacy will be commemorated in a private family gathering, with a larger celebration planned for the theatre community. His impact on the entertainment world and his dedication to advocacy will be remembered for years to come.
