

Entire Pokemon Legends: Z-A Game Said to Take Place in Lumiose City

The Pokémon Company recently announced a new game called Pokémon Legends: Z-A. This game will be different from previous Pokémon games. Instead of traveling around the world, players will stay in one place – Lumiose City.

Lumiose City first featured in the 2013 games Pokémon X & Y. In older games, Lumiose was quite large. However, in the new Z-A game, the city is even bigger. Poke-fans are guessing what kind of new areas and features the city could have because of its size.

If the game is like other open-world city games, it could be very large with many different areas. For instance, there could be different parts of Lumiose City to discover. Players might also be able to enter lots of buildings.

The new game is different compared to Pokémon Legends: Arceus. This previous game let players travel across the Hisui region with varied outdoor settings, from open lands to rough places.

Many fans are already excited about Pokémon Legends: Z-A. They are eager to see what Lumiose City has to offer in the new game. However, everyone will have to wait to discover how the game will actually be when it finally comes out.

How do you feel about the new Pokémon game staying in one city? What are you looking forward to in Pokémon Legends: Z-A? Share your thoughts with us.
