Ethan's Inspiring IT/ Data Science Journey at UW-Green Bay

Description

What's your dream job? Ethan is working to become a video game developer at Warfare. He always liked playing and fixing video games. He found a major at UW-Green Bay that focuses on Game Studies and Information Technology. He is now working on campus at the IT desk. Ethan is excited about having a job in IT while he follows his dream of working with video games!

Ethan says: "I enjoy helping people with tech problems and designing cool things. I chose Information Technology and focused on Game Studies. Video games have always been my passion. I'm learning a lot about programming languages like Java that will help me in my career. I love the hands-on experience in the Computer Networking class. I'm working on creating my own game too!"

After he graduates, Ethan hopes to work for a company like Gulfstream as an IT specialist. He also dreams of joining the game development company in London, Ontario that created Warframe, a game he loves. Ethan believes that by working hard, he can make his dreams come true.
