

Gisele Bündchen Resurfaces After February Baby Arrival

Description

Gisele Bündchen is embarking on her postpartum journey just a month after welcoming her child.

The renowned model and author was recently spotted with her partner, Joaquim Valente, and her daughter Vivian, aged 12, on Sunday, March 9, as reported by TMZ. This appearance marked their first public outing since Bündchen gave birth to their baby in February.

In addition to Vivian, Bündchen shares two children—Vivian and her elder son Benjamin, who is 15—with her ex-husband, Tom Brady. Notably, she has also played a significant role in raising Brady's son, Jack, from a previous relationship with Bridget Moynahan.

The couple appeared relaxed and casual during their outing, with Bündchen opting for a simple loose bun hairstyle.

Bündchen and Valente have been linked romantically since the summer of 2023. In a March 2024 interview with the New York Times, she spoke candidly about their relationship. "This is the first time I'm dating someone who was initially my friend," she explained. "It feels refreshingly honest and transparent."

As they prepare to welcome their first child together, a source revealed to People that the couple is excited about creating a nurturing environment for their growing family.

Moreover, Bündchen communicated her pregnancy to Brady before the public announcement, ensuring he was informed ahead of time.
