

GTPlanet: Gran Turismo 7 Update 1.46 Introduces Three New Cars, Additional Menu Options, and Engine Swaps

Description

Gran Turismo 7 Update 1.46 has just been released, introducing two new brands to the game. The update brings three new cars, with pricing ranging from 0cr to 1,000,000cr. The highlight of this update is the Afeela Prototype, a car created by Sony and Honda, available for free. The Skoda Vision Gran Turismo, featuring four motors with a combined 1,072hp, is the most expensive addition.

In addition to the new cars, a Ferrari Extra Menu Book has been added, focusing on Ferrari 12-Cylinder Engines. Players can collect specific Ferrari models to unlock this book. The game also features new races for existing events, each tailored to one of the newly added cars.

Engine swaps in this update include new applications for existing Chevrolet engines, offering modern LT5 power for classic Corvettes and options for Gr.4 vehicles. Players will need to reach Collector Level 50 to access the new engines.

Furthermore, the update includes new Scapes locations in San Diego, as well as support for the Fanatec Gran Turismo DD Extreme wheel. The Balance of Performance in Gr.3 and Gr.4 categories has also been updated ahead of the GT World Series Manufacturers Cup.

While some details remain undisclosed, the update promises an enhanced gaming experience for Gran Turismo 7 players. Stay tuned for more exciting developments in the world of GT7.
