

Hearthstone 35.4 Patch Notes Released

Description

Patch 35.4 will launch tomorrow for Restoration of Azeroth, introducing Class Sets. This update features a new Arena season, multiple events, and some bug fixes.

The patch aims to heal Azeroth after Deathwing's destruction. Four classes—Druid, Hunter, Paladin, and Mage—will receive unique Class Sets. Each Class Set consists of seven specific cards: one Legendary, two Epics, two Rares, and two Commons. These Class Sets will be released in three phases throughout the year.

Players can find these cards in CATAclysm packs, craft them, or purchase them directly. You can buy individual Class Sets for each class at a price of $9.99 or purchase the complete bundle for $19.99, which includes all four Class Sets and an additional card.

This season will also see the return of the Dual Class Arena, where players can choose two classes and draft cards from both. The game interface has been updated to help players understand their choices during matches.

Additionally, two events titled Forging the Dragon Soul and Ruby Sanctum will take place, offering players rewards for their participation. From May 5 to May 26, players can confront an alternate timeline version of Deathwing for special prizes.
