

Is MATIC Primed for $1.5 Rally? Analysis Inside!

Description

- MATIC could reach $1.5 if it goes up.
- First, it needs to go above $0.54 on the chart.

Investors in Polygon [MATIC] have been struggling as the token's price has been dropping. However, there is hope for MATIC to reach $1.5 soon.

Polygon's Plan for Recovery

Recently, MATIC's price went down by 16%, but it is currently trading at $0.4233. Only 2% of investors are making a profit.

Although sentiment around MATIC is negative, social interest is high. A bullish pattern on the chart suggests a potential rally towards $1.5.

MATIC's Future Targets

Investors are buying MATIC, but its MVRV ratio is low. The RSI is oversold, which could increase buying pressure and raise the price.

If MATIC breaks above $0.54, it could target $0.6, but if the bearish trend continues, it might drop to $0.33.

If there's a bullish trend, MATIC could aim for $0.54 first, with a chance of a short-term correction. Continuing upwards, $0.6 could be the next target, but a bearish trend could bring the price down to $0.33.
