

Major Update for Crimson Desert Set for May Release

Description

Pearl Abyss has announced that a major update for Crimson Desert will arrive in the next few days. This update is important as it promises new features and bug fixes, enhancing the overall player experience.

Just a week ago, the studio released patch 1.05.00, which introduced several features like rematch and re-blockade options. Players can expect even more from the upcoming update, which will include new special mounts and an extraction feature. This extraction feature will allow players to recover materials used in refining equipment.

Along with new features, the update will also address various bugs that players have experienced. While there is no set release date yet, fans should look out for updates, especially during the weekend, as the developers often launch patches on Saturdays or Sundays.

Many players have reported issues that they hope will be resolved in the next update. For example, some items disappear under certain conditions, while others find that certain quests cannot be completed. The developers are aware of these issues and are working to fix them.

Once the update is released, players can find detailed patch notes on MP1st. This will inform them about all the changes and improvements made to the game.
