

Misty and Jessie Compete for Pokemon Voice Star

Description

Rachael Lillis, a talented voice actor known for her iconic roles in various "Pokémon" films and series, including Misty and Jessie, passed away on August 10 at the age of 46.

Diagnosed with breast cancer in May, Lillis' co-star Veronica Taylor, who voiced Ash Ketchum, confirmed her death in a heartfelt statement on Monday morning.

Best known for her portrayal of Misty, the water-type Pokémon trainer, and the mischievous Jessie from Team Rocket, Lillis captivated audiences with her diverse voice talents.

Her work extended beyond "Pokémon," with Lillis lending her voice to popular characters such as Jigglypuff and Goldeen in various Nintendo games like "Super Smash Brothers."

Taylor fondly remembered Lillis for her kindness, humor, and remarkable acting ability, emphasizing the lasting impact she had on fans and colleagues alike.

In addition to her contributions to the world of animation, Lillis also showcased her talent in anime series like "Your Lie in April" and "Hunter x Hunter," leaving behind a legacy cherished by many.
