

Royal Family and London Zoo Prepare to Welcome Taylor Swift's 'Eras Tour'

Description

Taylor Swift kicked off her highly anticipated "Eras Tour" in London with a bang, and the city is buzzing with excitement. The royal family even got in on the action, sharing a video of the British Army performing a fun rendition of Swift's hit song "Shake It Off" during the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace.

The official X account for the royal family captioned the video with, "Can't stop, won't stop groovin'," showing their support for the pop superstar.

In addition, the London Zoo celebrated Swift's arrival in the city by sharing throwback photos from her visit in 2012. They offered Swifties with "Eras Tour" tickets a special discount on zoo tickets and extended an open invitation for Swift to visit again.

Swift, who has been wowing fans across the globe with her tour, is set to play eight shows at London's Wembley Stadium in June and August. During a recent performance in Liverpool, Swift revealed that the tour would be coming to an end in December.

Fans can't get enough of Swift's infectious energy and powerhouse performances as she continues to captivate audiences worldwide.
