

Stellar Blade: Blood Rain Reveal Allegedly Involves Generative AI

Description

The new game "Blood Rain" from Stellar Blade has raised concerns among fans. Many believe the reveal trailer uses generative AI, which is a technology that creates content automatically. This matters because it affects how the game looks and feels.

Fans noticed strange details in the trailer, like the appearance of the main character, Evie, and confusing buildings. Chinese players pointed out that some of the writing in the game does not make sense. This suggests that parts of the game may not have been carefully made.

The game is still in early development, and fixes may come before its release in a few years. The game's director, Hyung Tae-Kim, has spoken about using AI to help create games. He believes AI can make one person as effective as many workers.

Some fans are worried about this use of AI in gaming. They feel that the original game did not use AI and was successful. There are also concerns about the environmental impact of using AI because it needs a lot of energy.

While some fans support the use of AI, many hope the studio relies on human creativity instead.
