

TikTok Star Taylor Rousseau Grigg's Final Health Update Before Passing

Description

In an emotional video posted in August, TikTok star Taylor Rousseau Grigg opened up about her struggles with her health, just two months before her husband, Cameron Grigg, announced her tragic passing. Taylor addressed concerns about her well-being and clarified that her demeanor was not a result of her marriage but rather due to a serious illness she had been battling since shortly after their wedding in August 2023. Despite appearing unhappy in some videos, Taylor emphasized that her husband, Cameron, was her rock and a source of unwavering support. She candidly shared that she had been fighting for her life every day, dealing with the consequences of pushing her body beyond its limits. Sadly, Cameron later shared the heartbreaking news of Taylor's passing at the age of 25. He expressed her desire to continue helping others even in death by donating her organs. A GoFundMe page was set up to assist with medical and funeral expenses, as they did not have insurance. Taylor's TikTok account, where she shared glimpses of her life with her loved ones, had amassed over a million followers.
