

Today's Stock Market: Live Updates

Description

Stocks advanced slightly on Monday, with the Dow, S&P 500 and Nasdaq all experiencing marginal gains. This week's anticipated inflation report could reassure the Federal Reserve and pave the way for a rate cut in June.

In market news, Tesla shares shot up by 3% after CEO Elon Musk announced the unveiling of the electric vehicle company's long-awaited robotaxi design on August 8. Meanwhile, the Ulta beauty stock also rose by 1.3% after an upgrade from Loop Capital.

In the real estate sector, China's Shimao Group is facing a liquidation lawsuit. This news comes on the heels of similar lawsuits faced by major Chinese developers Evergrande and Country Garden Holdings. In response, Shimao announced that it plans to oppose the lawsuit.

AI technology continues to generate growth and transformation in various sectors, this positive trend is reflected by the 70% surge in the MSCI U.S. Information Technology Index since the end of 2022. Major bank CEOs, including JPMorgan's Jamie Dimon, continue to emphasize the transformative potential of AI in the banking sector.

Lastly, Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen did not rule out the imposition of tariffs on China's green energy exports, emphasizing that all options are on the table. Despite geopolitical instability and dampening expectations for rate cuts, the week started on a positive note for the stock market.
