

Yeat and Don Toliver Ignite Debut Live Show with New Hits

Description

Yesterday, June 20, at the Lyrical Lemonade Summer Smash festival near Chicago, Yeat and Don Toliver performed live together for the first time. Their show started with stunt doubles skydiving from a plane behind the stage. They sang new songs as a duo and also performed solo.

Before the event, they had released only two songs together. At the festival, fans heard two new songs called "SĒCRET" and "SCRĒWED UP." These songs are more upbeat than their earlier tracks. Don Toliver sang more in these new songs, while Yeat's style mixed well with the beats.

During the show, Toliver rapped over one of Yeat's songs, and then Yeat did the same. They also played songs from their other projects. The crowd enjoyed hits like "Too Many Nights" and "Lemonade."

Summer Smash has more performances today, including artists like Future and Lil Tecca. Fans are excited to see what comes next!
